

CONCORD RESOLUTIONS

Would you like to be able to resolve your differences without going to court? Then family mediation might be the answer for you.

At Concord we will discuss solutions with you in a pastoral environment.

What is Mediation?

Mediation is flexible, keeps you in control and can produce solutions tailored to your circumstances. It is likely to be significantly cheaper and quicker than going to court. At Concord the principles of Mediation are applied sensitively to the resolution of issues that can arise within families and between couples.

During mediation a trained mediator will assist couples and parents to resolve any disagreement by facilitating a process of finding mutually agreeable solutions. Our mediators will not take sides but will make sure you are able to say what you need to say and explore issues and options creatively.

What makes us different?

At Concord we understand that your family and relationships are precious investments and when there are difficulties you as a person need to be comfortable with the solution and content that the sanctity of that investment is respected. We strive to enable couples to find peace and harmony in the face of difficulty and disappointment.
